

| | 2013 | Jan – July 2014 |
|---|------|-----------------|
| LaHave Manor, Bridgewater | 3 | 1 |
| Riverview Home, Stellarton | 3 | 4 |
| Breton Ability Centre, Sydney River * | 13 | 8 |
| Quest, Lower Sackville | 2 | 5 |
| Kings Regional Centre, Waterville | 7 | 5 |
| Harbourside Lodge, Yarmouth | 0 | 0 |
| Annapolis Co. Municipal Housing Corporation, Bridgetown * | 6 | 6 |
| Sunset Residential, Pugwash | 5 | 1 |

* Note that management of Breton Ability Centre believes that the numbers provided by Community Services for their facilities are incorrect, and that only 2 police interventions occurred there.

 Note that management of the Annapolis Co. Municipal Housing Corp. believes that the numbers provided by Community Services for their facilities are incorrect, and that only 2 police interventions occurred there.

This is the wording of the FOIPOP request:

1 - In 2013 how often has police been called to deal with a disturbance created by a resident of any of the following Adult Residential Centres and/or Regional Rehabilitation Centres?

- Lahave Manor in Bridgewater
- Riverview Home in Stellarton
- Breton Ability Centre in Sydney River
- Quest in Lower Sackville
- Kings Regional Residential Centre in Waterville
- Harbourside Lodge in Yarmouth
- Annapolis County Municipal Housing Corporation Adult Residential Centre in Bridgetown
- Sunset Residential and Rehabilitation Services, Pugwash

2 - Same question as above for January - July of 2014.

If known, a distinction between police called by staff vs police called by others would be useful.

Also, if known, a distinction between disturbances created by people with a primary diagnosis of intellectual disabilities vs other diagnoses would be useful.
